

Xolisa is a financial services professional with 17 years of work experience. Xolisa holds a Masters in Development Finance from UCT. He is also a chartered development finance analyst (CDFA) and a certified environmental, social and governance analyst (CESGA).

He is the managing executive of distribution at Sanlam Corporate. Prior to joining Sanlam Corporate, Xolisa was faculty at the UCT Graduate School of Business (UCTGSB), teaching and supervising Masters student research in sustainable responsible investing. At UCT, he served as a trustee and investment committee chair of the UCT Retirement Fund.

Xolisa is the former head of Africa for the UN-Supported Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI). He has also held investment consulting roles at leading firms including Alexander Forbes, Absa Consultants & Actuaries and Independent Actuaries & Consultants. He currently serves as a non-executive member on the board of Just Share, a South African NPO advancing shareholder activism around ESG issues.

Xolisa has a keen interest in development and sustainable finance research. He has been the lead researcher for the 4 latest editions of the African Investing for Impact Barometer, a research partnership between UCT GSB and Riscura.

Linked-In Profile: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/xolisa-dhlamini-cdfa-1547254/>