

Elizabeth Mario

Vice-Treasurer (CIDEF NAMIBIA CHAPTER)

Elizabeth Mario holds a Bachelor's Honours Degree in Economics and completing a Master's Degree in Development Finance with the University of Namibia. She further completed a certificate in Financial Inclusion and Financial Development with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and currently pursuing a program in Financial Management.

Her work experience includes serving as an Assistant Statistician for a Namibian Government Entity and participated in the first Namibia Fish Consumption Survey. She has also rendered tutoring services specifically in Economics related Subjects.

Her varsity years include serving as Class Representative in different periods. She attended Academia Secondary School and served as the Head Girl on the Learner's Representative Council. During which she initiated and hosted the First HeadGirl and HeadBoy Conference in Windhoek, which was attended by various high school Learners Representative Council Heads. In addition, she initiated various leadership enhancements opportunities for prospective Learner's Representative Council Members titled "Demia Leadership Training". She attended Van Rhyn Primary School and won 3rd Prize in a National Poverty Reduction Essay Competition.

She has also served in the community in various portfolios such as Youth Secretary of two distinct Youth Clubs.

During her spare time, she enjoys tailoring, writing inspirational notes and songwriting. She values time, communication, integrity and organization. She is driven by the desire to see individuals and institutions act in their best financial interests. Her skills include presentation, communication, MS Excel, Eviews, Stata and SPSS. Her research interests include risk management, financial inclusion and financial behavior.